The diagram illustrates a two-page spread layout with several defined areas and margins. A central vertical dashed line divides the spread into two equal halves. The left half is labeled 'INSIDE LEFT' and the right half is labeled 'INSIDE RIGHT'. A thick red dashed line forms the outermost boundary of the entire spread. Inside this, a black dashed line follows the same path but is slightly offset. A magenta dashed line is positioned between the black dashed line and the central vertical line. The area between the magenta dashed line and the central vertical line is labeled 'SAFETY MARGIN KEEP IMPORTANT INFORMATION OUT OF THIS AREA'. The area between the black dashed line and the magenta dashed line is labeled 'BLEED AREA'.
